Candida Jagger/Marketing Director

Hello Memphis HOG Members! For those of you whom I have not had the privilege of meeting yet, my name is Candida Jagger and I am the Marketing Director for Bumpus Harley-Davidson of Memphis & Collierville. I am so excited for another great year of riding adventures and richer friendships with everyone. I have been asked to share a little about myself, so here it goes. I am originally from Canada, but I am a gypsy at heart so I have lived and worked in more than 15 different places throughout North America. My love affair with Harley-Davidson began when I was about 15. I saw a group of bikers camping at this music festival with their campsite surrounded by their motorcycles. I was inspired with these alternative gypsies and their ability to go places on two wheels. "One day, I will have my very own Harley-Davidson and I too will go places!" This was a goal of mine at one time in my life and I would do anything to make it a reality. Many years, many roads traveled and three Harley-Davidson motorcycles later, I believe that what we THINK about WILL come about. As 2015 rolls on full steam ahead, I wish each and every single one of you a year that counts. Revisit those goals, your bucket list and those dreams of yours. Get clear on what you want out of life and go for it! For those of you who have ever dreamed of being the driver of your own motorcycle, I encourage you to take the first step in signing up for our Riding Academy Basic Rider Course. Everyone has to start somewhere and as with all things in life, time and motivated repetition will form skill. Most people forget that they had to learn how to do the basics, such as walk and talk to achieve personal goals of independence and communication. My goal was clear... I wanted a Harley-Davidson, period. I didn't know how I was going to do it, but I made my mind up that owning and riding a Harley-Davidson was what I wanted. Long story short, I learned to ride and got my license on a 1973 FX Super Glide, which I now also own. I was not a very good rider in the beginning but I was determined and would not quit. When I reflect on those days of inexperience, I realize how far I have come and how much I have learned over the years because of my desire to not only own a Harley-Davidson, but to know how to ride them as well.

Hello every one, this is a joint article from Tammy and myself.

We hope that you have had a wonderful May! If you attended the Tennessee State HOG rally I am certain you had an experience that you won't soon forget! As for us we had a change of plans and hit the road going west. I must say even though our trip is not yet over it has truly been one of the most enjoyable trips we have ever taken together!

The weather was cooler than we expected but we were prepared for whatever mother nature wanted to throw at us, rain, sleet, snow and even extremely high cross winds! This may sound like it was not such a great trip with the wide variety of weather we have run into but nothing could be further from the truth!

We would like to encourage all of you, if you are thinking of taking a motorcycle trip on your own or with friends, DO IT!!!!!! You will not regret it! I only wish we had the time to do this more often.

I know that not all of us can take time off from work to do this but if you can take the time to explore new roads and make some great memories!

Chuck Jennings a chapter member of Memphis Hog is planning a trip out west to ride some of the best roads that can be found in the west! He is looking for someone to share this trip with, I think he will be leaving in June. Short notice, I know but this could be a trip of a life time! So contact Chuck ASAP, I'm sure he would enjoy having you join him!

Consumer Safety Alert:

While motorcycle safety is always at the forefront in the mind of those that ride there are other aspects of safety that touches our daily lives.

In case you haven't heard, it was recently uncovered that an estimated 500 million Android phones don't completely wipe data when the phone is factory reset. Data from applications like Facebook, What'sApp, Contacts, Pictures, Text messages, E-mail and even your Google account info can be recovered after the device wipe is done.

So you may be thinking so what, or why does this matter? It matters because for many of us our phones are our "wallets" or our "brain dumps" so we don't have to remember numbers, addresses, special dates, passwords, credit cards, and other key family info any longer. All of this "critical data" is usually buried somewhere amongst the thousands of records stored on our phones. Now just imagine your excited because it's time for your next device upgrade.

You

wander into your providers retail store and pick out your next device that will store your life's history. The clerk behind the counter says to keep your personal info safe lets wipe your old device so your info is safe, right? Wrong, these smart phones and tablets are very complicated devices filled with on-board memory and external SD cards. This is where all of your personal info, contacts, and pictures are stored. Therefore, if your device doesn't completely wipe you might have well just handed your wallet to a complete stranger! So what can be done to prevent this wipe issue? So there are a couple of things you can do to mitigate this issue. There is a encryption of data feature on most if not all Smart devices. On Android you can typically find this option under Settings>Security>Encrypt phone. On Android versions since 3.0 and it must ALWAYS be enabled by the user. While this is a valuable feature and should most always be used if you store "sensitive" personal data the downside is if you lose your device password then all of the data is unrecoverable. So I would suggest that if you don't use encryption all of the time before you swap devices enable security encryption before you do the factory reset! Once you enable the encryption and then do the reset all of your data will be gone! Pay attention to any SD card encryption settings, You may have to manually select the SD card to encrypt it too.

You can also just remove the external SD memory card from the old device and put it in the new device. However, if the SD card was encrypted in the previous device the new device may not recognize it. Be sure to mention this to anyone helping you with picking out a new device so they can offer the best approach to migrating the SD card to your new device.

I said there were a couple options so the other option would be to walk out to the tool box and grab a hammer and go to town on the old device! It's a great stress relief to pound the daylight out of a device that dominates much of our waking hours!
